9/18/67

Dear Mrs. McNamara,

Thank you very much for your letter of 9/16 and the two enclosures, which arrived today. I have read them in haste because I have to leave for a few days. They do tell a remarkable story.

At the moment, I am already too deeply committed to anounced work to do anything with them. I've just finished the rough draft of the fifth book and am working on others.

There is one thing in your letter you should not say or feel: "...my pride has foresaken me". There is nothing in what you wrote to give any reason for you to lose your pride.

Do keep your spirits up!

Thank you, again, for your time and trouble.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
